OIL COMPANIES SHOULD

SUPPORT THE COMMUNITIES

THEY'RE A PART OF.

WE AGREE.

Healthy businesses need healthy communities. Jobs, education, and healthcare are essential. We've helped provide millions in thousands of entrepreneurs in Angola. We've funded partnerships, infrastructure in Indonesia. And we've played part in saving 0.7 million lives through our support of the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria. We're making a difference without borders. Because the truth is, our success depends on a thriving community. Learn more at chevron.com/weagree

GET JOBS.

WE AGREE.

Chevron Human Energy

Many study and learn science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) to help help us better get those jobs. Chevron has invested in over a million dollars to support STEM educational programs at the College Science Center and with middle schools and high schools in the oil state area. Helping provide curricula, lab equipment and teacher training. We want kids to know what science can do. And what they can do with it. Learn more at chevron.com/weagree
